

BIBLIOGRAPHY: A compilation of selected UNESCO-related material dealing with information literacy (e.g. websites, articles, documents, reports, speeches, etc.)

This bibliography is a compilation of selected UNESCO-related materials dealing with information literacy. It has been culled from UNESCO websites and sub-sites, articles written and speeches given by Abdelaziz Abid, Senior Programme Specialist, Information Society Division, UNESCO, and from other relevant UNESCO-generated documents and reports. It was compiled by Zdravka Pejova, Head, Information and Library Services at the International Center for Promotion of Enterprises (Ljubljana, Slovenia) by executing a comprehensive search of the Internet and a variety of library, information, and social science literature databases.

Abdelaziz Abid

“Information literacy is part of the basic entitlement of every citizen, in every country in the world, to freedom of expression and the right to information, and is instrumental in building and sustaining democracy”. (Abdelaziz Abid, UNESCO)

UNESCO

Information Literacy - UNESCO's action to provide people with the skills and abilities for critical reception, assessment and use of information in their professional and personal lives. UNESCO's main strategy in the area of Information Literacy consists of awareness-raising about the importance of information literacy at all levels of the education process – basic education, primary and secondary education, technical and vocational training and lifelong education – and of establishing guidelines for integrating information literacy issues in curricula.
